JOHNSON & HILL CO.

A detailed black and white illustration of a high-top leather boot, shown from a side profile. The boot features a pointed toe, a decorative strap with metal studs across the toe, and laces. The upper part of the boot is highly textured with a stippled effect, suggesting a leather or fabric material. The heel is thick and blocky. The boot is angled upwards from the bottom left towards the top right.

A new judge down in Missouri recently elected, and holding his initial term of court, arose and gave the following charge to a jury, the other day: "Gentlemen of the jury, charging jury is a new business to me, as this is my first case. You have heard all the evidence as well as myself. You have heard what the learned counsel have said. If you believe what the counsel for the plaintiff has told you, your verdict would be for plaintiff; but if, on the other hand, you believe what the defendant's counsel has told you then you will find a verdict for the defendant; but if you are like me, and don't believe what either of them said, then I'll be—if I know what you'll do.
Constable, take charge of the jury."

Negotiations are pending looking toward the sale of the Nokosa telephone exchange to the stockholders of the concern at Nokosa. As it now stands the exchange at Nokosa is owned by the Wood County Telephone Co. of this city, but it is run on the co-operative plan the same as the exchange here, and parties at Nokosa who have phones are privileged to own stock the same as here. Those who have been approached on the subject at Nokosa seem to be in favor of the change, as it would give them entire control of the plant, and they could run it along the lines that suited them the best. If the change is made it is probable that the lines between this city and Nokosa would be changed into toll lines, and as they are used largely by non-subscribers, it would make an income from this sort of business, a thing that is impossible under the present order of business. The Nokosa people report that the lines between that village and this city are used more by the people who are not subscribers than they are by those who pay for their service, and they are willing to see this abuse of the system done away with.

A Big Land Deal.

Milwaukee Sentinel—A $500,000 real estate deal, involving the transfer of the village of Hiles, a large farm and its stock, logging outfit, a logging railroad, and 25,000 acres of fine hardwood timber land was consummated in Milwaukee Thursday, when the F. P. Hiles Lumber company sold all its extensive holdings in Forest county to the Forester Whitman Lumber company.

Incidental to the sale is the incorporation of the new company, organized of talking over the Forest county property and incorporated with a capital stock of $200,000. The officers and incorporators of the Forester Whitman Lumber company are Charles G.
Forester of Milwaukee, president;
Charles H. Mueller of Milwaukee secretary and treasurer, and W. A. Whitman, formerly of Marquette, Mich.,
but now of Hiles, Wis., vice president and general manager. Mr. Whitman will take personal charge of the management of the holdings.

The property transferred is one of the largest timber tracts in Northern Wisconsin. The village of Hiles, founded by F. P. Hiles about five years ago and owned by him until a year ago, includes two saw-mills, a shingle and lathe mill, a planing-mill, stave mill, store with stock of merchandise, a hotel, and thirty cottages, all of which are included in the sale. There is also a farm with about 100 head of cattle, fifteen teams of horses, and logging outfit, the Hiles Northeastern railroad with all its equipments and the 25,000 acres of densely timbered land. The village of Hiles is on a branch of the Northwestern road and the Hiles Northeastern road is a logging road running from this branch up through the timber tract.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best and Most Popular.

CONGRESSIONAL NEWS.

Senator Bailey, in a notable speech in the senate, declared that congress has the right to pass a railway rate law which would confer on the federal government the authority to suspend an order of the interstate commerce commission.

After a month of debate on the railway rate bill, the senate has decided to accept the Kins amendment to the rate bill. If the senate adopts it, it will force the issue to the house.

AMONG CRANBERRY MEN.

EDITED BY W. H. FITCH.
(All communications and special exchanges relating to this department should be sent to Cranberry Men, Wood County, Wis.)

Wisconsin Cranberry Deal.

Grand Rapids, Wis., April 5.—A. C. Bennett, chairman of the Wisconsin Cranberry Sales Co., has issued a statement in answer to an article which appeared in The Packer under a Kansas City date line on March 24. The article in that issue, under the heading "Wisconsin Cranberry Deal," was in the form of an interview with Ernest Peck, of Kansas City, telling of the proposed plan for marketing cranberries in the Wisconsin district, and also giving a little of the history of the methods in marketing cranberries.

At the annual meeting of the Wisconsin growers a few months ago a plan was started to devise some method of marketing the crop of the growers. As a result of that effort a stock company was organized, which is known as the Wisconsin Cranberry Sales Co. This concern has since been working through committees on plans for handling the 1906 crop. At a meeting to be held April 18 the stockholders will elect a board of directors, and it is expected that the directors will take up this matter shortly and decide on some plan of disposing of the coming crop.

The statement issued by Mr. Bennett regarding the article in The Packer is as follows:

"WISCONSIN CRANBERRY DEAL."

It is not often that one sees in a single article, so many misstatements of fact, as appeared under the above caption in The Packer of March 24.

"We have a sales company composed exclusively of Wisconsin growers organized by the growers and for the growers, and no cranberry dealer has anything to do with promoting it or fixing the plan or purpose of its organization except on our invitation. It has not been in existence long, but its membership already represents over 70 per cent of the Wisconsin cranberry crop."

"The object of this company, as set forth in its articles of incorporation, is 'to act as agent of its own members in the sale of cranberries; to establish uniform packages for marketing of the fruit; to adopt reliable cleaning, grading and packing; to promote a demand for and the sale of cranberries, and to procure reasonable shipping rates.'"

"The cranberry business in Wisconsin has never a 'straight commission proposition.' Some commission business was done in the past, but our growers sold mostly for cash, and commissions such as are described by Mr. Peck were very rare."

"But even if we did not consign, our methods of marketing were bad; each grower sold his own berries in competition with his neighbor and the cranberry buyers often were very successful in working one grower against the other, and, like the fellow who, was his own lawyer, we often made a bad work of it."

"We think now that we will hire a professional—one who has learned the trade, and if we should pay him 5 per cent for doing the selling, it would be much less than it cost us when we sold for 'cash on the barrel top.'"

"We think we can accomplish much of the good purposes set forth in our articles of incorporation better through an organization than we could acting separately. We even think it would be better to sell when we are not together than it did when each sold for spot cash, and we do not intend to employ an incompetent 'cheap John' either.—A. C. Bennett, chairman of committee on organization."

Cranberries from Chicago. New York, April 7.—Smith & Coyne of 115 Watron street, received a shipment of 30 barrels of cranberries from Chicago this week. The supply is cleaned up in the east almost to a barrel. Smith & Coyne are crating the berries received from the west, which are of a fine quality, and selling them at $1.75 to $2.

In more ways than one have Smith & Coyne, who are a comparatively new firm and with a great deal of energy, shown themselves to be skillful operators and to be upright dealers.

They are fast becoming recognized as one of the factors in the cranberry deal. Just at present they are building a spacious hot room in their store to properly care for and ripen up the southern vegetables, when they do not come in a condition to get the most out of them upon arrival.

Quorum Cranberry Deal.

Chicago, April 7.—The trade was surprised here several days ago when it was announced that a pretty good shipment of cranberries had been received from Seattle. These berries were sent on commission last fall and were left over. On account of the high prices in all eastern markets it was decided to have the shipment returned. Upon arrival here the berries knocked the market all to pieces, putting it down from $20 to $18 to $16 a barrel. Not only that, but an enterprising firm on the street that had the berries sent some of them east.

It was understood the latter part of the week that 30 barrels of these berries had been boxed and were setting in an eastern market for from $4.75 to $5.

Recent Marketing Methods.

(From Wisconsin Valley Settler, April 7.)

So, Carver, Mass., April 2, 1906.

Mr. Ernest Peck, Peck Bros. Co., Co., Kansas City, Mo.

Have just read your interview in the "Packer" and think that you hit the nail on the head all the way through. No better system can be devised than the "Spot Cash" f. o. b. My friend, Mr. John A. Winberg, wants me to say the same thing for him, and I think all other growers here are of the same opinion.

Dogs are in good condition so far this season.

I hope to do business with your house again next fall.

Very respectfully yours,

Fred Anderson.

Cranberry Growers Dissatisfied.

Contributed.

Fruit Trade Journal.—Some of the cranberry growers in Wisconsin are not satisfied with the manner in which their crops have been marketed in the past, and are advocating a cranberry sales company.

During the past eight or ten years the entire crop has generally been sold to about half a dozen buyers, who brought their cash along and bought up everything within a few days, later the whole crop was shipped out, and the growers had their money in the bank. Prices paid by merchants were usually in harmony with those of other producing centers; in fact, at times they were so high that dealers lost heavily on their purchases.

The average price paid for the Wisconsin crop last year was about $7 per barrel, which at the time purchases were made looked like a very high figure, and buyers lost no time in leading at whatever margin they were able to secure. As the season advanced, it developed that the crops of late berries of Cape Cod and New Jersey had fallen very much shorter than was anticipated, while the demand was unprecedentedly heavy, largely owing to scarcity, and high prices of apples. As a result the market all over the United States advanced rapidly, until today cranberries are being quoted at all the way from $25 to $40 per barrel. Naturally, some growers feel as if they did not get a fair share of the profits, and think that by organizing a sales company, placing the sale of their berries in the hands of one agency, they can better control the situation.

They propose to employ an agent to handle the entire output, allowing him a commission of 7 1/2 per cent. This would practically put the business back to a commission basis, with the only difference that in years gone by the growers had the privilege of selecting their own commission houses, while by the new plan they would have to submit to the dictation of one.

It may be all right, but it does not look to us as if it were an improvement over the spot cash plan, which has been so well established in Wisconsin, and which has saved the growers a great deal of trouble and worry; for it should be borne in mind that such rapid and exorbitant advances as we have had during the past season may not appear again in twenty-five years. With normal crops the market does not as a rule show any excessive fluctuations.

The producer who disposes of his crop for cash at the market price as soon as it is ready will fare better than he who dangles with it or permits others to sell it for him on commission.

Cranberry growers on Cape Cod have tried all kinds of experiments in their time, and many of them to their great sorrow. They welcome the cash buyers with good sized bank accounts, and other every possible inducement to stay with them through the season.

Wisconsin growers should think twice before undertaking to make radical changes. It is an easy matter to drive cash buyers out of the field, but not so easy to fetch them back when needed.

Personal.

Capt. B. G. Cahoon of East Whitman, formerly of Pleasant Lake, has signed a contract whereby he becomes general manager of the Cape Cod Mutual Cranberry company, probably one of the largest in the state. He will soon begin in the construction of one hundred and seventy acres in Halifax.—Wareham, Mass. Courier.

Last Year's Yield.

The assessors of Carver are gathering statistics of last year's cranberry crop, which will be printed for distribution. While their returns are not quite all in, they are so far completed that an estimate can be made, and this corresponds with the popular impression that the crop was exceedingly light. Only six bogs, as compared with 19 in the previous year, reached the thousand barrel mark. Some of these were exceptional cases, the Federal Cranberry bog a company coming nearer to the general average. The output of these six bogs was:

James Webb & Co.	1904	1905.
Waukegan Co.	1,300	1,045
A. C. Finney & Co.	1,333	1,186
Swan, Holt Co.	2,232	2,229
Atwood Bog Co.	1,675	3,000
Federal Bog Co.	12,000	3,200

As Carver is one of the chief producing districts on Cape Cod the foregoing figures are significant and valuable for comparative purposes, and if a scientific and systematic gathering of returns could be made generally, it is opined great gain and good would result to all connected and concerned with the industry whether as producer, middleman or consumer.

The tendency and trend of modern progressive thought and action is in the direction of the "open door," open book, and open account, and the increasing favor accorded these principles, policies and practices argues well for their universal appreciation and acceptance.

Stole the Boss's Wife.

Nekosia Times.—A sensational allegation occurred at Babcock last Wednesday evening when Mrs. Wm. Clausen and a section hand named Smith disappeared simultaneously from that village.

Mr. Clausen is a hard working and industrious man and during the six years since they were married, he and Mrs. Clausen apparently got along well. He always turned his wages over to her, making her his banker and everything was lovely until lately, when this man Smith alienated her affections and induced her to leave her happy home for him. The elopers took along all the available cash of the household.

Mrs. Clausen has no children, but it is said that Smith has a family living elsewhere.

Wausau Pilot.—Mrs. L. S. Cohn has just received the medal which was awarded her by the world's fair commission, for the best cranberries raised in the United States. The berries were raised on her cranberry marsh in Wood county. The medal is a beautiful one and is much prized by Mrs. Cohn.

Dr. Hogen has ordered an automobile and he expects the machine here some time in the near future. The doctor has been an admirer of this method of conveyance for some time past and has been threatening to adopt this scheme of travel in the transaction of his business ever since the auto has been brought to sufficient perfection so that it could be depended upon.

During the past week the telephone men have been engaged in stringing the messenger wires across the river that will support the new cables that will connect the two sides of the river. They are being put up in a solid and substantial manner. It has been decided to put in two new cables instead of using one of the old ones as was the intention at first. After the new cables are in it is expected that the service across the river will be somewhat better, as the old cables were pretty badly cracked, allowing the admission of more or less water, which was a continual source of trouble.

The gun club opened up their services at the shooting park down the river last Sunday, and the weather being fine there were a number out to take part in the events. The indications are that there will be a number of new recruits to the club this year. It is the intention to make an attempt to have the regular shoots of the club held on some week day instead of Sunday as has been the custom for a number of years past. There are a number who have expressed a desire to shoot who are new at the business, but who do not care to shoot on Sunday, and those who have been shooting on Sunday heretofore have expressed the opinion that they would rather shoot on some other day, and it is probable that such arrangements will be made.

association is loading up four carloads of horses and cattle, full blooded stock, and are expected to arrive in Nekosia the latter part of the week to take possession of the farms purchased for them their Father Alabony during the winter.

Another department will arrive next week and their purchases will increase each month.

The association now owns several hundred acres of farming land near here and will purchase the balance of the section for the newboys to cultivate under the management of an experienced farmer.

Stake Races Named.

Marshfield Times.—Secretary Welton has named the six stake races which are to take place at the fair as follows: Wood County stake, Business Men's stake, Manufacturers' stake, Association stake, Farmers' stake, and Dairyman's stake and the Grand Rapids stake. The stakes are thus named in honor of the institutions suggested and dedicated as the names indicate. The class and purse to which each name will be assigned is not yet determined.

Obituary.

North Amherst, O., Reporter.—Dora L. Steele, daughter of Hon. H. W. Remington, was born in Madison, Wisconsin, June 27, 1849, passed to spirit life on the morning of March 8, 1906. The funeral ceremonies were held at the house on Sunday, conducted by Clara L. Watson of Jamestown, N. Y., and interment was in the Cleveland street cemetery. She is survived by her husband, E. P. Steele, and a brother and sister who reside in Babcock, Wis.

She was a woman of refinement and culture, a great reader of the best books, and her early education was acquired in a young ladies school at Muscatine, Iowa, from which she graduated. Her father, Henry Remington, was a resident of Amherst at one time and will be remembered by the older residents, but he removed to Wisconsin, and became a successful lawyer.

All of her married life was spent here, excepting six years spent in California. Her marriage to E. P. Steele occurred in 1872, at the home of her grandparents. She went with her husband to California where they lived three years at our time then came back here, afterward returning to California, remaining there three years. Her health was affected and for many months her life was despaired of. Returning here about twenty-one years ago, she never recovered good health and had been a sufferer with asthma.

During all the years of her residence here she enjoyed the association of warm friends, the enjoyment of a pleasant home, and was patient and cheerful under all circumstances. Her married life was a pleasant one, and her greatest comfort was derived from her home.

The funeral services were largely attended, the house was filled with friends and there were many handsome floral offerings. The remarks of Clara L. Watson were appropriate to the occasion, and her words were comforting to those present.

Will Try the Split Log Drag.

It is the intention of the city to construct and put into operation a split log drag on some of our dirt streets. The split log drag was explained quite minutely in a former issue of the Tribune and it is a very simple affair, easy of construction and of nominal in cost, but where it has been tried and kept in operation it is said to have produced results that cannot be overestimated for dirt roads.

Not only is it hoped to keep in better condition some of our only roads, but it is also hoped that its operation, if successful, will prove an object lesson for people from all over the country and encourage them to try the same appliances on the country roads that lead to the city.

If the split log drag will do what is claimed for it the contrivance will prove a boon to the outlying districts, and the cost of trying it is so small that there is no reason why it should not be generally adopted. During the past week some of the roads right inside of the city limits have been well high impassable, having been worse than ever before known, and there will be excellent opportunities for giving the contrivance a thorough trial.

Rapidly Making Improvements

J. T. Schumacher has had new plate glass windows put in the front of his store on the east side during the past week, and the improvement in the appearance of the place is quite marked. The front of the building has also been remodeled so that there is only one door instead of two, so that the place has now a modern appearance. The glass in the front is also of twelve foot and two inches, and are the largest in the city.

The grocery department in the store has also been moved to the back end, and the front where the grocery department formerly was will be taken up with a goods furnishing department, which Mr. Schumacher says, he intends to enlarge considerably in the near future. When all of the improvements are completed he will have a very nice store and there is no doubt but what he will receive his share of the patronage from our people.

Improve Grandfather Falls.

Merrill News—A deal has just been closed by the Merrill Paper Manufacturing company whereby they become the owners of what is known as the upper Grandfather Falls. This will mean the improvement of one of the great undeveloped water powers in the state of Wisconsin. The local paper company have been figuring on this purchase and it was only recently that a favorable understanding was reached between the parties. The Grandfather Falls is one of the most potent and talked of water powers in the state and its development, which has been under consideration for many years, will be considered a great piece of work.

The plans for the dam and power house are now being drawn by Jacobson & DeGuerre, of Grand Rapids. The dam will develop 6000 horse power and it will be used to generate electricity and the electricity will be transported fourteen miles to the company's mill on the Prairie River. The work on the new development will be commenced as soon as the water in the river gets at its usual height.

Norwegians Plan Banquet.

Prominent Norwegians of Milwaukee, and planning a large banquet to be held at the Hotel Pfister on May 17, the Norwegian fourth of July. The banquet will be a state affair and representative Norwegians from all parts of Wisconsin will be in attendance.

Among those who will respond to the invitation are Gov. James O. Davidson, Tax Commissioner Nils P. Haugen, Prof. Julius E. Olson and Peter O. Stromme of Madison, Prof. D. G. Roestad of Albion, Judge Viljo of Superior, Albert Hovgen of Manitowish and Dr. Roe of Marinette. In addition to the speakers it is expected that between 800 and 400 Norwegians will attend the banquet from the cities throughout the state.

Pat Case Reversed.

Attorney J. W. Cochran received word from Madison on Tuesday to the effect that the supreme court had set aside the verdict of the circuit court in the case of John Peat against the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway. No particulars were received but this probably means that the case will be tried again before the circuit court.

Peat had one of his feet cut off by the cars and claimed that he had been speared from the train while it was in motion, and the railway company claimed that the train had been stopped when he was put off, and that the accident happened subsequently thru the carelessness of Peat himself. The jury awarded Peat damages of $2900.

Paid For Her Injuries.

Mrs. Louisa Miller of the town of Grand Rapids effected a settlement with the town of Grant last week thru her attorney, W. J. Conway. Mrs. Miller was riding on a load of hay, when one of the wheels of the wagon on which she was riding went into a rut and she was thrown from the load, breaking one of her legs. Action was commenced against the town but before the case came to trial a settlement was effected by the town paying $500.

IMMIGRATION TALK.

E. T. Wheelock Addresses Our Citizens on the Subject of Settlement in Wisconsin.

Ed. T. Wheelock, secretary of the Wisconsin Immigration and Development association, was in the city Friday evening and addressed an assembly of our citizens on the subject of immigration to Wisconsin, and gave a very interesting talk, and showed some things regarding the movement of settlers that was somewhat of a surprise to people who have not paid much attention to such matters. Most people are of the opinion that the population of Wisconsin is steadily increasing and that the number of settlers who are taking up land is not the case.

The figures show that the number of settlers who leave the state is greater during the year than the number who come in. One is that the Duluth and Minneapolis as well as the Canadian provinces have been doing a lot of advertising during the past few years, and the consequence is that many have been attracted there by the pictures that have been shown of the advantages to be gained by going there, many going from Wisconsin as well as other places.

The objects of the Wisconsin Immigration and Development association as set forth in one of their pamphlets are:

To co-operate, so far as may be practicable, with local industrial, commercial and advancement associations wherever such bodies have been organized in the state.

To gather from all available sources information bearing upon the state's agricultural and manufacturing industries, and to make and maintain a directory and estimates of natural resources, and by compiling, arranging and editing this material to enable the association and local bodies to work intelligently and to the best advantage for the advancement of the state.

To endeavor to secure the assistance of and enter into co-operation with the legislature and the administrative departments of the state for the spreading abroad of information relating to the industrial resources of Wisconsin. To secure the aid of railroad and steamship lines in bringing new settlers and manufacturing industries into the state.

To furnish prospective immigrants such information as they may require concerning soil, climate, water, crops, markets, and to induce them to settle upon and develop our wild lands.

To furnish manufacturers seeking locations for factories all facts relating to raw materials, water power, shipping facilities, freight rates and markets that are required to enable them to appreciate the advantages offered by Wisconsin as a state of diversified industries.

To seek avenues through which literature designed to advertise the industrial advantages of the state may be carried to the people of other lands and other states who desire to better their condition.

To study the methods adopted by states that have had experience in advertising, revise and improve on their plans whenever possible.

To cultivate a spirit of co-operation between the different branches of industry to the end that all may work together in harmony for the material advancement of Wisconsin.

Membership in the Wisconsin Immigration and Development Association costs five dollars. It is not a money-making scheme, neither is it gotten up for the development of one part of the state to the detriment of the others. Those who go into it are reaping no benefit, it being the state at large that will receive the benefit of any advertising done by the association.

Will Visit Northern Wisconsin

Milwaukee Press Press.—The annual state excursion of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association will be made to northern Wisconsin this week. At the monthly board meeting yesterday afternoon the suggestion that a northern trip be taken was favorably received and Secretary L. O. Whitney was authorized to prepare a route.

The exact territory that will be covered, and the cities to be visited, have not been determined upon. Secretary Whitney will hear suggestions as to the best route before he will refer the matter to the board for endorsement. In the opinion of Mr. Whitney, the trip will be made along the lake shore on the Chicago & Northwestern road. The trip will be taken the early part of July.

Two Nice Books.

The Tribune is in receipt of a copy of the Arbor and Bird Day Annual and the Memorial Day book, both issued by the state, and they are very nice little books and well worth preserving. The Arbor Day annual was compiled by Maud Barnett and is the more elaborate of the two, and is a nice specimen of better press work. Arbor and Bird Day occurs on the 15th day of May, and is becoming more generally observed each year by schools and other organizations that take an interest in the beautifying of places and cities by the planting of trees and flowers. It is a most judicious effort and should be encouraged by all, both old and young.

Mail Carriers Organize.

The mail carriers of this city effected a local organization on Monday. The officers elected were R. W. Lyon, president; G. M. Otto, vice president and O. E. Mickelson, treasurer. The other members are Lynn Rennie, Frank Baldwin and Ernest Young. The organization here is also a member of the state and national organization.

School Board Organizes.

At a special meeting of the school board last week an organization was effected and the following officers elected:

President—Dr. F. Pominville.
Treasurer—T. A. Lipke.
Clerk—H. S. Youker.
Mr. Youker was also elected as superintendent of schools here for the coming year.

Missionary Program.

The Women's Missionary society of the Baptist church will give a public program at the church rooms, Wednesday evening, April 25th. Following the program, luncheon will be served.

The dance given at the Opera house on Monday evening by the members of St. Catherine's Guild was a very pleasant affair, and was a brilliant success both financially and socially. The hall had been prettily decorated with bunting and flowers and there was a large crowd in attendance. The ladies were well pleased with the success of the event.

Rev. E. B. Edmunds of Beaver Dam will preach morning and evening at the Baptist church, Sunday, April 22nd. At the morning service he will give an illustrated boys' and girls' sermon. All are cordially invited.

Rev. George R. Dewey, missionary colporteur for the American Baptist Publication Society, has recently moved his family here from Menomonie, this state, and will hereafter make this city his headquarters. His home is on Tenth Avenue, South.

THEIR LAST SESSION

Old Council Passes out of Existence and Newly Elected Take Their Place.

There was a special session of the city council at the city hall last night, at which the old council passed out of existence and the new men stepped in and commenced on the regular routine of business without a hitch.

The old council was called to order by Mr. Nash and the regular order of business was gone thru. Then Mr. Nash made a short address to those present, in which he stated that the council and himself had been elected to give the city an economical administration rather than to make great improvements and he felt that this had been done. He stated that there had been no great work done that would remain as a monument to the outgoing council, as had been the case with the council that went before, but at the same time he felt that it was not the time to do such things and that the interests of the people had been better served by the methods he had used.

He made a few recommendations to the incoming council, advising them to look into the matter of drainage on the west side, a thing that the retiring council had been taking some interest in. Also to continue the improving of the roads in the outskirts of the city. Mr. Nash stated that it was his opinion that the improvement of the Bligol road owned by the administration before his had done more to benefit the city than any one thing that had occurred for many years, as farmers had come further to the city than had ever been known before.

After Mr. Nash's address the council adjourned and the new members and Mayor Wheelock took their places and after a short recess the council was again called to order.

After the council had been called to order the resignation of J. LaFayette Porter was presented as an alderman of the 14th ward, as he intends to leave the city to fill his place. The name of A. Panton was presented by Alderman Getchell and Mr. Panton was elected by a vote of 10 to 3, one member not voting.

The resignation of P. Mulroy, alderman from the 7th ward was then presented. Mr. Mulroy having been elected supervisor from his ward, which was accepted. The name of Clark Lyon was presented by Alderman Rosier, and he was elected to fill the vacancy. The name of Dr. F. Pominville was also presented, but as it was impossible for him to hold two positions his name was not voted on.

The mayor then announced his appointments for the coming year, which were as follows:

City Attorney—J. J. Jeffrey
City Clerk—O. E. Bolas
City Physician—Dr. F. Pominville

Chief of Police—J. D. Gibson Day Police—John Garlick
Night Police (East Side)—John Bala
Night Police (West Side)—M. Mason

Committee on Finance—Alderman Rosier, Healy, Ritsow
General Business—Alderman Rosier, Getchell, Rowson

A new judge down in Missouri recently elected, and holding his initial term of court, arose and gave the following charge to a jury, the other day: "Gentlemen of the jury, charging jury is a new business to me, as this is my first case. You have heard all the evidence as well as myself. You have heard what the learned counsel have said. If you believe what the counsel for the plaintiff has told you, your verdict would be for plaintiff; but if, on the other hand, you believe what the defendant's counsel has told you then you will find a verdict for the defendant; but if you are like me, and don't believe what either of them said, then I'll be—if I know what you'll do. Constable, take charge of the jury."

Negotiations are pending looking toward the sale of the Nokoska telephone exchange to the stockholders of the concern at Nokoska. As it now stands the exchange at Nokoska is owned by the Wood County Telephone Co. of this city, but it is run on the co-operative plan the same as the exchange here, and parties at Nokoska who have phones are privileged to own stock the same as here. Those who have been approached on the subject at Nokoska seem to be in favor of the change, as it would give them entire control of the plant, and they could run it along the lines that suited them the best. If the change is made it is probable that the lines between this city and Nokoska would be changed into toll lines, and as they are run largely by non-subscribers, it would mean an income from this sort of business, a thing that is impossible under the present order of business. The Nokoska people report that the lines between that village and this city are used more by the people who are not subscribers than they are by those who pay for their service, and they are willing to see this abuse of the system done away with.

A Big Land Deal.
Milwaukee Sentinel—A $300,000 real estate deal, involving the transfer of the village of Hiles, a large farm and its stock, logging outfit, a logging railroad, and 35,000 acres of fine hardwood timber land was consummated in Milwaukee Thursday, when the F. P. Hiles Lumber company sold all its extensive holdings in Forest county to the Forester Whitman Lumber company. Incidental to the sale is the incorporation of the new company, organized this week for the express purpose of taking over the Forest county property and incorporated with a capital stock of $300,000. The offices and headquarters of the Forester Whitman Lumber company are Charles G. Forester of Milwaukee, president; Charles H. Mueller of Milwaukee secretary and treasurer, and W. A. Whitman, formerly of Marquette, Mich., but now of Hiles, Wis., vice president and general manager. Mr. Whitman will take personal charge of the management of the holdings.

The property transferred is one of the largest timber tracts in Northern Wisconsin. The village of Hiles, founded by F. P. Hiles about five years ago and owned by him until yesterday, includes two saw-mills, a shingle and lath mill, a planing-mill, a saw mill, store with stock of merchandise, a hotel, and thirty cottages, all of which are included in the sale. There is also a farm with about 100 head of cattle, fifteen teams of horses, and logging outfits, the Hiles Northeastern railroad with all its components and the 35,000 acres of densely timbered land. The village of Hiles is on a branch of the Northwestern road and the Hiles Northeastern road.
